

Winter chills have taken their toll with several of the children poorly. However the rest of us have looked at the Blue Unity strip, a smaller version of the huge Fettuccia ribbon, tracking from Creation through Redemption to Parousia, while the Level 1's looked at the first creation story in Genesis.

We have welcomed Dan as a helper these last few sessions – the children know him from services and respond really well to a man in the Atrium.

This week the older children started reading the Miracle stories while the younger ones have meditated on the beginning of Psalm 23 and learned to prepare the cruets.
